

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.

JAMES V. ALLRED, youthful attorney-general, was elected governor of Texas, defeating his opponent, Tom F. Hunter, attorney and oil man in last Saturday's Democratic run-off primary election. Inauguration of Governor-elect Allred will take place at Austin, January 7th. Allred will be 35 years old at that time, the second youngest governor in the history of the Lone Star State. Ex-Governor Dan Moody, Texas' youngest governor, was 33 years of age at the time of his inauguration.

The gubernatorial campaign just ended was marked by spirited rivalry between the two contestants for office. Embittered charges and counter charges were hurled back and forth during closing days of the campaign. Radio broadcasts, feverish political rallies, printed circulars, banners, and bumper-bellied sound trucks spread political propaganda on a wide scale.

MANY political observers prophesied the end of Jim Ferguson's long established grasp on political affairs in Texas due to the turn of events in Saturday's voting. This belief is emphasized by the fact Ferguson offered his support in behalf of Hunter during the campaign. In this respect "Jim" went amiss of public favor twice in succession. In the first primary he backed C. C. McDonald, who was defeated in three places.

YOUTH was riding its high horse at the polls. In the Texas county sheriff's race, Albert West, Jr., age 32, defeated a much older opponent for office. Despite his age, West has been in service in the Texas Ranger forces.

MONDAY, September 3rd, is Labor Day. On this day we pause to pay tribute to the men whose brawny arms keep the wheels of industry in motion. American workers, both men and women, have known the deprivations of unemployment and its accompanying hardships. Bravely have they borne their misfortune, loyally keeping faith in God, flag, and country. Today, they realize this trust has not been in vain. Our noble president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, fully understands the urgent needs of the working man. His sincere ambition is to make working and living conditions more favorable for the great masses.

A treaty of peace with Great Britain ending the Revolutionary War was signed at Paris, September 3, 1783.

Birthdates of famous personalities this week: Lafayette, born Sept. 6, 1757, and Queen Elizabeth, born September 7, 1533.

FARMYARD animals and domestic pets oftentimes form strange companions. Even a mother cat will occasionally overlook instinctive hatreds and care for an orphan pup. But the strangest adoption reported from a ranch owner concerns a mare mule, which adopted a young calf. The mule nurses the calf, and the two are inseparable companions.

FORTUNE smiled—almost—upon Mrs. Hugh Proudfoot, of San Antonio, when she discovered an age-worn suit case in the attic of her home. Inside she found a $10,000 and $1,000 currency note. On closer observation the bills were found to be of Confederate issue, and valueless.

TEXAS mimos are oiling shot guns and getting hunting togs in readiness for the official opening of dove season September 1. The Texas game law in this region permits an individual limit of 15 per day, or 45 doves per week. A license is required to hunt outside one's residence county. Shooting from or across highways is punishable by a severe fine. Quail season will open at a later date.

THE young fellow in Tampa, Fla., who choose sitting nude in a swarm of hornets as a novel way of committing suicide certainly was a fiend for punishment. We speak from hornet sting experience.

DRIVING along a country road Sunday afternoon, a large, black hornet made an unwelcome appearance inside the automobile. Of all places, the insect traveled up your reporter's trouser leg. "Ouch, Wow!" Two painful stings were scored before we could stop the car, turn loose the steering wheel, and settle with the hornet.

Says Mr. Chronic Groucher, the rewrite man: "Too many folks buy on the 'pay-as-you-can' plan, and later learn they must settle up on the 'pay-when-you-can't' system."

A TOUCH of old time wild west celebration was added to last Saturday's election activities, when Juan Arevalos, Mexican, terrorized his neighborhood by firing a six-shooter in front of his home. Police arrested the whoopee-maker, who claimed he merely intended to liven things up a bit.

Opportunities are swarming around us all the time thicker than gnats at sundown. We walk through a cloud of them.—Van Dyke.

THIRTY APPROVED PROJECTS OF VARIOUS TYPES IN HANCOCK COUNTY UNDER WAY WITH FEDERAL AID

Review of Work Accomplished for the Public Good—Group Meetings Held Throughout County Every Two Weeks—Co-Operation and Concerted Action Responsible For Better Results

Ten percent of the people in Hancock county are receiving help from the Federal Government through the F. E. R. A. Why are there so many people on the relief rolls and what benefit is the community receiving from this help?

The people in the rural sections get their training in saw-mill and turpentine skills which are no longer in operation, therefore it is necessary for them to be taught to readjust themselves and to learn to make a living for themselves and their children on the small farms which are badly run down and poorly stocked with scrub cattle and hogs, with little or no machinery outside of hand implements, and with no means with which to purchase fertilizer and equipment. Homes are universally dilapidated, fields unfenced, sanitary conditions are deplorable.

In Bay St. Louis conditions are also bad. With the construction and operation of the two canneries there will be a change, but up to this time there have been no industries and no pay roll. Neither townpeople nor residents from New Orleans were repairing and remodeling their homes, nor were many engaging domestic servants at a living wage.

In July an extensive work program was put into effect throughout the entire county. All able-bodied men and women were given an opportunity to do constructive work. Projects were formally drawn up and approved by engineers in the state office in Jackson. There are 30 approved projects of various types now under way in this county.

Community Projects

The F. E. R. A. has sponsored and furnished all of the labor for community houses at Flat Top and Standard. With material left over by the C. W. A. it has constructed a community tennis court at Bay St. Louis. The foot-ball field has also been put into condition for the fall games.

Baggett school was rebuilt and repaired work on schools and school grounds in Dedeaux, Logtown, and Sellers, is being done with F. E. R. A. labor. Twenty-three school gardens have been worked during the Spring and summer—seeds were furnished by the F. E. R. A.

Seeds were given to all families on relief rolls and all of them planted gardens and canned the produce of these gardens.

Sanitary toilets have been constructed—lumber for some of them was furnished by the county and city.

Deep wells have been dug where people had been drinking contaminated water.

Nutrition Projects

1161 under-nourished children were served hot lunches during the last school term.

Under the direct supervision of the F. E. R. A., 30,000 jars and cans of vegetables and fruits have been canned. Thousands of these will be used for school lunches and others will be distributed to needy people this winter. Twenty-four canning centers have been in operation during the summer giving employment to many women.

Families in rural sections have an average of 100 cans of foodstuff on their shelves for winter use.

Beach Beautification

Work is being done to remove stumps and debris from the beach in Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Seaweed is being gathered for compost piles to be used for fertilizer for school gardens.

Streets

New streets have been opened, other streets have been widened.

Storm Drainage and Malaria Control

Under the plans of the State Health Department ditches are being cleaned and low spots drained.

Roads

Work is being done on 10 roads in various parts of the county. Building, grading, and completing new roads, and widening and draining old roads as well as repairing bridges is a part of these projects.

Sewing Projects

Sewing rooms have been maintained in various parts of the county. With material purchased by the F. E. R. A. Over 700 garments have been made and distributed.

Medical Care

In the past three months much money has been spent for doctors and medicines to care for desperately sick people who had no way of receiving medical attention.

Recreation

The F. E. R. A. has promoted de-

creational projects. Swimming classes, outdoor sports, and games, handicraft classes, and story telling hours, are a part of this program.

Library

In Bay St. Louis two large, airy rooms in the Hancock County Bank building are used as a library. There are over 400 patrons on the library, 500 books, and hundreds of magazines. Branch reading centers are being opened in the various communities.

Group Meetings

These meetings are held throughout the entire county once every two weeks and are attended by all people on the relief rolls. Lectures have been given by the county health officer on sanitation, personal cleanliness, treatment of sores, hookworm prevention, simple home remedies, and the care of children. Talks on all subjects pertaining to national, state and county F. E. R. A. work are given and an effort made to interpret all phases of this program to those who are not only deriving the benefits of this help, but who by their labor are doing definitely constructive work for themselves, their communities, and their county.

LIBRARY "TAG DAY" NETS SNUG SUM OF CASH TO "CARRY ON"

Friends from New Orleans And Others Liberally Contribute Many Volumes

Have you remarked the feeling of kinship that exists between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans? Surely this was evidenced when Mrs. and Miss Byrne collected thirty-one books from friends in New Orleans for the Bay Public Library and presented them on "Tag Day" (last Saturday).

Interest shown by citizens of the Bay, as well as by summer residents and commuters, was even more gratifying than the thirty-three odd dollars realized. Actually, contributions are still coming in, so "Tag Day" marches on, like John Brown.

Contributions of books continue. Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Siler have just given six; Miss Florence Finholt, two; and Junior Perry, one. Thanks to unknown friend who is sending "The Catholic Press."

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club to Celebrate Labor Day Occasion

Realizing Labor Day is an outstanding holiday of the year and falling on a Monday after the weekend, a time when many vacationists and week-end visitors to this section of the Coast remain over, Uncle Charlie announces two dances at his well-known and popular Nite Club.

There will be the regular Saturday night dance and another on Sunday night, continued into the wee sma' hours of Labor Day. Reservations may be had by using either phone 28 or 450. Music for both nights by Louis Caron's 10-piece orchestra.

VISITOR FROM CANADA ADDRESSES BAY BOY SCOUTS, TROOP 208

Th talk by Mr. L. M. Pepperdene of the University Settlement, Montreal, Canada, on Friday, August 17, was very much enjoyed by a representative group of Scouts, leaders and parents. The meeting was presided over by Asst. Scoutmaster Edward Jones of Troop 208, who introduced the speaker.

Mr. Pepperdene's talk was most interesting, and gave an insight into the difference in scouting in the far North where it is so cold most of the year. Mr. Laurent Dickson, district committee chairman, closed the meeting by thanking Mr. Pepperdene for giving the benefit of his experiences in scouting, and inviting all present to inspect the new quarters of Troop 208. The scouts wish to thank Mr. Baxter for the use of the Hotel room for this meeting.

Bay Canning Co.'s Plant Building In Course of Completion

Construction of the building of the housing and plant for the Bay Canning Company, on site of the former Peerless Oyster Company, is nearing completion and shows a structure of no small size and mean appearance. Walls and roof are of heavy corrugated iron and every detail is of substantial character. Just how soon the plant will be ready for operation is not stated, but in ample time for the winter operation.

The Johnson plant, recently constructed at the head of Washington street is finished to the extent that active operation has already been started. It was noted that some fifty odd people were employed there one day last week. Both plants will give considerable employment, and an active and prosperous season among the laboring classes is anticipated. In turning the business of the town will profit accordingly.

Knights of Columbus To Entertain With Dance On Next Monday Week

Knights of Columbus of Bay St. Louis will entertain the public with a dance at the K. C. Home, Main street, on the evening of Monday, September 10, with Anderson's Jazz Band in attendance. The K. C.'s entertain their friends from time to time and such events are always enjoyable. A small admission fee of 50 cents for gentlemen and twenty-five cents for ladies will prevail. This money will be appropriated to the benefit fund.

RETURN FROM EUROPE

Mrs. Jos. J. Chalona and accomplished young daughter, Joy, returned home Tuesday of last week by way of New York City from an extensive trip over continental Europe, covering the greater part of the summer. They witnessed the Passion Play and were also received by His Holiness the Pope. They returned home on the steamer Barenghia. Mr. Chalona met his wife and daughter at New York on their arrival. Their trip needless to say was one of wide interest and ever to be remembered. Miss Joy graduated from the Ursuline convent at New Orleans the early part of the summer and the trip to Europe was a graduation present.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT SATURDAY

Open Air Fete and Bazaar, Benefit King's Daughters Hospital, Set for Sept. 1

Saturday, of this week, September 1, is the day and date for the Bay St. Louis' King's Daughters Hospital open air fete and bazaar, and, according to a report from ladies in charge the affair is going to attract more than an ordinary-sized gathering and of unusual interest. The affair will take place on the lawn of St. Stanislaus College, beginning at 6 o'clock P. M.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, local president, has quite a number of workers associated with her efforts in the cause and expresses considerable satisfaction at the outlook. She is general chairman of the event.

The proceeds of the fair will be applied to the building fund of the hospital. The appropriations from the city, county and State cannot be used for this purpose as they are used for the maintenance of the hospital only.

The following chairmen and their committees will be in charge of the various booths.

Novelty Booth—Chairman, Mrs. Robin; Mesdames L. Seal, C. Buckley, H. Kergosien, Miss M. Perkins.

Sandwiches—Chairman, Mrs. C. M. Weeks; Mesdames S. Power, E. J. Lacoste, Taliaferro, Miss Crawford.

Country Store—Mr. Martin Blanchard; Messrs. Larry Larue, Jr., Jos. R. Scharff, Durant de Ponta.

Gulfport, Miss., Aug. 30.—With approximately 5,000 votes lead over his nearest opponent, Congressman W. M. Colmer is driving toward return trip to Washington on the face of virtually complete unofficial returns from the Sixth District.

Latest tabulations gave Congressman Colmer 12,213 votes as against 6,796 for John Lumpkin. He and Lumpkin face a run-off on September 18. Alexander Currie placed third in the vote with 4,595, and Tarver McIntosh trailed the field with 3,600.

Unofficial returns from 29 of the 32 precincts in Harrison county most populous of the Mississippi Coast section gave Senator Hubert Stevens a vote of 1732 to make him the county's choice in Tuesday's statewide Democratic primary with Ross A. Collins coming in for second place with 1512. Former Governor Gilbo ran third in this county with a vote of 1378 with State Senator Harper trailing far behind with 34.

In the Congressional race, Harrison county gave Congressman Bill Colmer a handsome vote, piling up 3,130 to 952 for John Lumpkin his closest competitor. Currie ran third with 290, closely followed by McIntosh with 270.

Judgeship Race

In the race for the Circuit Judgeship, Judge Walter A. White ran 570 votes ahead of Judge D. M. Graham in this county polling 1980 to 1410 for Graham. F. W. Elmer received 702 as third man in the race with William Estopinal placing fourth with 586.

Judge White and former Judge Graham will be in a run-off for the judgeship as the vote from 75 of the 92 precincts of the 5 counties comprising the district, namely Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, George and Stone, place them only about 900 votes apart with Judge White holding the advantage in numbers. The total from these five counties give Judge White 3,847 as against 2,911 for Judge Graham. Elmer's vote in the district totalled 1,338 and Estopinal's 958.

The precincts not heard from are for the most part small and located in the rural district. For instance the only missing boxes in Harrison are Vidalia, Finley and Lizana and the total vote in these three boxes will probably not exceed 100 it is estimated.

STEPHENS AND BILBO IN SECOND PRIMARY FOR SENATORIAL RACE

Early Returns Indicate Stephens Leads With 5,900 Votes Against Bilbo's 5,600—Incumbent's Lead in All Races

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 29.—The stormy challenge of former Governor Theodore G. Bilbo to Senator Hubert D. Stephens' right to succeed himself in the 74th Congress will be settled September 18 when Mississippi Democrats will choose between the two in a runoff primary.

With only about 280 of the state's 1,611 precincts missing, the unofficial tabulation Wednesday showed Stephens and Bilbo virtually deadlocked at the top of a field of four candidates, with the Junior senator holding a slight advantage.

Trailing far behind was Congressman Ross A. Collins of Meridian, who vacated his fifth district Congressional seat to make the race. "Bringing up the rear with only a few scattered votes in each precinct was State Senator Frank H. Harper of Hattiesburg, who hitch-hiked to his speaking engagements during the campaign based on his appeal for hopes on a "Share-the-wealth" platform.

More than 150,000 votes had been counted in the 1,296 reported boxes, promising to exceed by several thousand and the pre-election estimates of officials. Balloting in most sections was conducted with unfavorable weather conditions, rain falling intermittently at many points throughout the state. With slightly more than 200 of the state's 1,611 precincts unheard from, the vote stood:

Incumbents Lead

In Congressional contests in six of the state's seven districts, two incumbents appeared certain of nomination. On the basis of the incomplete figures, runoffs probably will be necessary in four districts.

Congressman Will Whittington of Greenwood, gained the third district nomination without opposition, thus assuring him of his seat, since the Democratic nomination in Mississippi is tantamount to election.

Congressman John H. Rankin of Tupelo, in the first district, and Wall Doxey in the second, rolled up majorities over their opponents that unlikely will be altered by returns from the missing boxes.

In the fourth, sixth and seventh districts the incumbents, Representative Jeff Busby, Houston; William Colmer, Pascagoula and Russell Ellzey, Wesson, all lead their opponents by wide margins but had not mustered the necessary majority for first primary nomination.

In the fifth district, vacated by Collins, Aubert C. Dunn, Meridian district attorney, was leading a field of five candidates, but appeared likely to enter a runoff with Thomas L. Bailey, speaker of the Mississippi House of Representatives.

HEALTH OF PUPILS IMPORTANT MATTER IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Many Communities Provide Physical Examination Before School

School days are practically here again. In a few weeks all the schools of this county will have begun a new session. Plans are completed, teachers selected and the doors of the school buildings are ready to swing open.

Are the children of Hancock county ready for school? Well do we remember the days just prior to the beginning of a new school year. They were days mingled with excited pleasure and dread.

Are our children ready physically for a new session? We believe every school child should have a thorough physical examination before the beginning of school. In many communities, there is the custom of having the little children, who are to enter the first grade, examined in the early summer in order that they may be vaccinated against smallpox and have any defects corrected before the Fall months.

It is our idea that this physical "round-up" should be extended to include all children of school age. By such an examination it would be possible to discover and correct such defects as faulty eye-sight, poor hearing, bad tonsils or teeth, adenoids and the like which prevent the child from making the progress he should in his school work. Often times these defects are unsuspected and parents wonder why their Johnnie fails to make the progress they feel certain he should.

Such an examination would also discover those children who have communicable diseases and thus tend to check the spread of these diseases among the children they come in contact with.

If it so happens that the parents of some of these handicapped children are financially unable to have their children receive the medical attention needed some welfare organization should undertake the task of seeing to it that these children have the chance to develop properly. It is a right of which no child in Hancock county should be deprived. Has Hancock county any facilities to handle such a situation? If so, fine. If not, what are we going to do about the matter?

WAS BRAZIL OVERLOOKED?

BRAZIL is about to complete the destruction of 23,000,000 bags of coffee, undertaken to remove a huge surplus which beat down prices.

The coffee destroyed was equivalent to a fifteen months' supply for the entire world. The surplus has been wiped out and only enough for the year's needs will remain.

Now, what we want to know, is this: If the drought in this country is to punish us for destroying surpluses, as some misguided citizens believe, why should the Almighty penalize us and let the Brazilians escape?

FARM LOSSES CAUSED COLLAPSE

IF ANY reader of The Sea Coast Echo wants to know the main cause of the national debacle it should be plain when on considers, more than ten billion dollars a year between 1924 and 1929, averaged only six billion dollars a year for the past five years.

In fact, the cash income of our farmers went down to $4,328,000,000 in 1932.

No wonder small cities and towns, dependent upon agricultural populations for their business, dried up and merchants were bankrupted. Nor is there any reason to expect their rehabilitation and the resurgence of their local trade unless farmers in their area have profits to spend.

N. R. A. HAS GOOD POINTS

THAT the people of the United States suffer when low wages are paid workers, or when child labor enables manufacturers to cut costs, is apparent. It is also plain that there exists selfish minorities in all lines of endeavor, ever willing to take profits at any cost.

The N. R. A. was organized to deal with these questions. It has had a hard job and probably many mistakes have been made. At the same time there is general recognition that it has accomplished much good. The question now is how to consolidate the gains and eliminate the evils.

STATISTICIANS CHEERFUL

STATISTICIANS are beginning to take a more cheerful view of the prospects for business this fall. Even in the agricultural sections, they say, the outlook is not so bad.

Chiefly supporting their contention is the fact that despite the drought's damage the principal grains, based on crop estimates and present prices, will yield more money to producers than last year's crops. Allowance is made for benefit payments.

In addition, relief expenditures, together with special sums set aside for drought relief, will augment the money available in the affected areas.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

NEW from San Diego, Cal., tells us about an unidentified man, who walked to his death in the sea, singing loudly as the water rose about him and holding a Bible in his hand.

We suspect the gentleman was another example of the type exhibited by the preacher who let the snake bite him to prove that God would take care of him.

WALLACE'S SERVICE

HOLDING no brief to defend the Secretary of Agriculture we nevertheless commend his outspoken discussion of what he considers the vital issue facing American agriculture.

No completed settlement of any public issue can be secured until, and unless, the people concerned understand the issues involved. Mr. Wallace has done much to make the public conscious of the problems in farm adjustment and while positive in his own ideas he has not failed to point out alternative proposals.

Congressman Colmer's re-election now seems assured.

Even a confident candidate has his doubts just before the polls open. Some have them after the polls close.

Bootlegging continues in the nation on about the same scale that it operated in the days of prohibition.

Those who criticize candidates for public office should remember that candidates will be what the electorate is.

The nation might as well get the election out of its mind; the football boys are getting ready to take the spotlight.

Notwithstanding the great joy we secure from our daily grind and the regular publication of this journal we remind subscribers to send in cash for subscriptions.

MAKING EDUCATION PRACTICAL

THE reopening of the schools of Hancock county affords us the opportunity of considering the educational program involved and the duty of supporting school authorities in their work among the children here.

The present day needs of schools vary considerably when compared with those of some years ago and the people of the county must be prepared to lend their aid to those officials who are attempting to meet the challenge of a new era.

One of the recognized differences is the greater emphasis being placed upon vocational training. Realizing that many high school students end their educational training when they complete their courses, school authorities almost everywhere are making desperate efforts to alter curricula to provide them with the means of taking care of themselves in the world.

Education that broadens one's desires without, at the same time, providing some opportunity to gratify the new found needs, is not as complete as it should be. More and more are we getting away from the classical reign and moving towards an era of practical benefits to the individual. It is, we believe, an excellent modification of school aims.

SOUND PHILOSOPHY

THE film career of the late Marie Dressler was unusual. Late in life, after reaching the age when many people would have permanently retired, she made a tremendous "hit" and became one of the best box-office attractions of the industry.

This actress was a wise woman. Some of her remarks contained sound judgment. Speaking about training children, she said: "I'd also teach my child that nothing in life is free. You've got to pay for everything you have, some time, and in some way. It's tragedy to teach youngsters to expect something for nothing."

Of friendships, she remarked: "Life is too short to waste it with great numbers of people who mean nothing real to you. If you can find a few real friends in a lifetime, then you are a fortunate person." And she added, "You get from life and people only what you give to them." How many people would lead happier lives if they took this truth to heart.

The world-at-large, which only knew her through her screen dramatizations, suspected something of this philosophy from Marie Dressler. The parts she played in pictures made many feel an understanding of her philosophy of life.

NEW SPEED IN TRAVEL

FIVE years ago some of our citizens gasped when it was announced that the continent could be crossed in thirty hours, using trains for night travel and planes for daylight jumps.

Each year the time has been cut down, with airplanes used for the entire hop. Now, the latest is a 16-18 hour service, crossing the continent, eastbound, in sixteen hours, and westbound, in eighteen. There are only three stops between New York and Los Angeles, at Chicago, Kansas City and Albuquerque.

This illustrates a fact that should have tremendous effect upon practically every phase of modern life. The nation is smaller today than it has ever been. Of course, physically it is the same size but by conquering the forces of nature man has reduced the time element in travel, transportation and communication.

The automobile has accomplished a similar revolution in Mississippi. Thirty years ago a hundred miles journey was almost a matter of days and yet, today, it is a matter of a few hours. In Hancock county the same story is told. Years ago a journey to the county seat, utilized the best part of a day, but now, with automobiles available, it involves only a few minutes.

AMPLE FOOD AVAILABLE

THERE is official assurance that sufficient foodstuffs exist to feed the people of the United States and also the warning that those who raise prices unduly will be handled.

The drought has cut down huge surplus supplies but it has not endangered an adequate stock of food. While it is expected that better prices to producers will result from the elimination of the vast surplus which depressed prices it is not necessary that there be any great increase in retail prices.

Of course, the task of preventing profiteering will be hard. There are always among us those citizens ready to traffic in misfortune and take undue advantage of the buying public. The government must exert every effort to keep track of excessive price advances, which may jeopardize the entire recovery movement.

HOW TO PREVENT WAR

MAJOR-GENERAL Smedley D. Butler retired officer of the Marine Corps, suggests the conscription of capital and capitalists as a means of preventing war, in an article in The Forum.

Declaring that war is a racket which cannot be smashed by disarmament conferences, peace parleys or resolutions, but only by taking the profit out of war, the General says that the Government should conscript the country's capital. One month before it orders the young men of the nation to be killed, it should conscript "the officials and directors of our armament factories, our gun builders, munitions makers and ship builders"—all to be paid $30 a month, "the same wage paid to the lads in the trenches."

Concluding, the General declares that if the nation gives capital thirty days to think it over, "There will be no war."

Judge W. A. White is appreciative of the telling vote given him in Tuesday's primary. He warns his friends of overconfidence.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

A POLITICAL DOCUMENT

WITH all of the loose talking and writing about the Constitution of the United States, it is highly important to study that wise and valuable paper to find out what it is and is not. The first thing you may notice about it is that it is a political document, because it is concerned with government, and that it has nothing at all to say about economic systems. It is no disparagement of the authors to say that they knew nothing about economics because that alleged science had not yet been invented. Some of them may have read the "Wealth of Nations," but none of them had ever seen a steam engine, or a sewing or mowing machine, and it is very probable that some of them had never had any dealings with a bank, for there were only three banks in the United States.

What these highly intelligent gentlemen had to do was to set up a new government, and that is exactly what they accomplished with conspicuous success. They had to first fix the framework of the new federal government and then to decide governmental powers between the authority and the separate states.

Article I, which is about one-half of the total length of the original draft, creates a legislative body called the Congress, specifies the form of its organization, authorizes it to make laws on a number of subjects and forbids certain privileges to the separate states, as well as to the Congress.

Article II, confers all of the executive power of the government on one man, the President, and prescribes his qualifications and certain of his duties and powers. Under the Constitution we can make a dictator of the President, but we cannot confer his tremendous powers on anybody else.

Article III authorizes a Supreme Court and "inferior courts," and prescribes their jurisdiction. The power of the Supreme Court to declare laws and executive acts unconstitutional is not stated, but was derived from the Constitution by Chief Justice Marshall.

Article IV, V, VI, and VII, which are comparatively brief, contain certain miscellaneous provisions, including one for amendments. About twenty amendments have been adopted.

The form of organization is one which has been found most satisfactory in business and other forms of activity, as well as in government. There is a body of men to make rules and to dictate general policies, after consulting with each other. There is one man with full power and authority to act in accordance with such rules and policies. There is an impartial authority to decide disputed questions. Power and responsibility are closely united. The organization is very much better than that of most of the states, where power is so divided that responsibility is difficult to fix.

It is easy to criticize Congress, for it is a very human and imperfect body, and is so conspicuous that its defects show up very clearly, but the best single criticism is probably that it is too representative, and therefore not far enough ahead of the rest of us. That very defect has its advantages. If Congress does not move as fast, or as far, as some of us would like, it does not move very far on any tangent until the country makes up its own mind. Then it can develop very surprising speed and force. Whenever any considerable majority of us want anything done, our government is quite capable of doing it. When we don't know what we want, Congress does not either, and does little of importance.

We can illustrate examples. If we want to turn Fascist, the Congress has only to confer power on the President, and he can make us a Fascist state. The reason that does not happen is that we do not want any such system. If we wanted to turn Communist, it would probably require a brief amendment abolishing the institution of private property, which amendment would have to be approved by two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the States. Then the government might continue in its constitutional form without a break. We are not doing this, because we do not want to, not because we couldn't. If we want to establish Socialism we do not need any amendment at all, but only a few laws, passed by a majority vote in Congress and approved by the President. The government could manage the railroads, public utilities and other interstate industries just as it now manages the army, the navy and the postoffice.

The Constitution knows absolutely nothing of these economic systems, for they were not invented until long after it was written, adopted and put into effect. It is not concerned with economics, in spite of much that you are hearing and reading today. It is a very wise political document which establishes a government, gives its creation plenty of power, and allows that government to solve its own problems when and as it meets them.

WASHINGTON NOTES

BANKS STRONGER

Assets of 5,422 national banks in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii on June 30 were $23,901,592,000, an increase of $960,419,000 over March 31, 1933. Figures are from the Comptroller of the Currency and based on calls for bank statements.

OVERRULES "P. M. G."

President Roosevelt has appointed John W. Finch, dean of the University of Idaho School of Mines, as director of the Bureau of Mines. Some attention was directed to this appointment because Dr. Finch, understanding that his appointment was certain, came to Washington and found that the appointment had been held up temporarily "because of political objections by P. M. G." It is understood that Dr. Finch voted for Hoover in 1932.

DRUNKENNESS INCREASES

An increase of 38.61 per cent in the number of arrests for drunkenness in the first three months of 1934 compared with the same period of 1933 is reported by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The figures are based on reports from 192 cities.

JAIL SENTENCES

State laws on drunken driving were called a "hodge-podge" by Thomas P. Henry, President of the American Automobile Association, who suggests a uniform law, prescribing a mandatory jail sentence of ninety days for second offense.

NO POLITICS

At a recent press conference, President Roosevelt made it clear that he expects all government employees to refrain from political activities.

DECLINES

Employment and payrolls declined from June to July, with an estimated loss of 150,000 workers and $10,460,000 in weekly wages, according to Secretary Perkins.

MAKING MATTRESSES

About 50,000 women on direct relief will be employed, and 250,000 bales of cotton used in the making of mattresses as a relief project of the FERA.

PENSION PUBLICITY

The National Commander of the American Veterans' Association has proposed a law requiring that the names of all persons receiving a pension for war service be publicly posted for not less than thirty consecutive days, during each calendar year, with a statement of the annual amount received.

PLANES COME HOME

Ten high speed Army bombardment planes which left Washington for Alaska a month ago, returned last week after 10,000 miles of flying. The planes left the capital on July 19th and reached Fairbanks six days later. For fifteen days flights were made and the surrounding territory photographed.

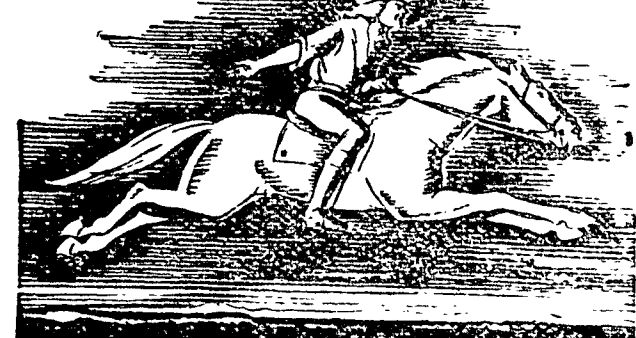

LABOR WINS

Organized Labor won its fight with the NRA Administrator, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, when the National Labor Relations Board ordered the reinstatement of John Donovan, president of a union, who was dismissed by the General for inefficiency.

MAINE TO VOTE

The election in Maine early in September will be hailed by both parties as a "victory" and will start the flow of debate among the partisans. Generally speaking, a Republican victory by a small majority would be encouraging to Democrats, while anything like normal majorities for the Republicans would be considered "bad news" of the New Deal.

'Paul Revere'

Solid Copper Tea Kettle

(Chromium Lined)
Everyone knows of Paul Revere's heroic ride from Lexington to warn the Minute Men, but few know of Paul Revere's Secret.

Paul Revere was the only man in the U. S. who knew how to make malleable copper. The U. S. Government and most of the world's governments build the first copper mill and he made the sheet copper for the Constitution to protect her against rust and corrosion.

Today in the replica of Paul Revere's house in the Paul Revere Village at Chicago World Fair this kettle is the only one of its kind.

SAVES 20% ON FUEL

Copper (with the exception only of solid silver) is the best conductor of heat known. This massive kettle, built two and a half centuries ago, heats water 20 per cent faster than other types of kettles.

Certified $3.70
Value

A well known firm of New York appraisers has certified under oath that this kettle is selling for $3.70 in the department stores of New York.

TEXAS CITIZENS REPUDIATE THE FERGUSONS

(Jackson Clarion-Ledger)

TEXAS voters black another eye for James E. (Pa) Ferguson, political power in the Lone Star State 20 years, impeached as governor but later retaining control of that office through election of his wife, Miriam A. Ferguson.

The latest black eye is represented by election of the youthful Attorney-General James V. Allred as governor in the Democratic run-off primary.

Allred is "anti" Ferguson. Both the Fergusons supported his opponent, Tom Hunter, after their first choice, gentleman named McDonald, was eliminated in the first primary. Their opposition to Allred in the second primary was as futile as their support of McDonald in the first, which is a happy augury for Texas.

Built Up Strength By Taking Cardui

Here's her own account of how Mrs. T. W. Hardin, of Greer, S. C., was benefited by taking Cardui: "I suffered a great deal from weakness in my back and pains in my side and felt so miserable," she writes. "I read of Cardui and decided to try it. I felt better after I took my first bottle, so kept on taking it as I felt such a need of strength, and it helped me so much."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Smuggling of alcohol is increasing, according to the Treasury Department, which is at a loss to understand this development.

OUTBOARD MOTORS IN BAD SEAS

High Winds, Rain and Turbulent Waters Meant Rough Course For Game Sailors

Despite exceedingly rough water for that part of the coast, there was a large crowd of spectators to see the numerous boats that arrived for the races in the mouth of Jordan river, last Sunday.

Because of numerous small squalls and heavy rain that quickly scattered the crowds, the races were a little late in starting.

The first race called was for the large run-about class. There were two boats in this class, one run by Ashton O'Dwyer (the "Mickey") losing by two seconds to Rudy O'Dwyer J's. "Junior." The four laps were made in 16 minutes, 3 seconds.

On account of the inability of the drivers to get the boats in class B started, it was delayed quite a bit. A. Taylor, in his "Just Imagine," of Pass Christian, took first place, with the "Mary Gene" of Bogalusa, owned by Robert L. Smith, taking second place over Robert McGivney, who had been winning in James Joubert's "Yumping Yimminy I," in the first turn. On the next round, Ted Laroussini and the "Yumping Yimminy III," stopped because of a leaking gas tank. From then on, the race was a cinch for "Miss Slidell" with "Yumping Yimminy I," "L-5," and "Mary Gene" battling for 2nd place. "Mary Gene" went out with motor trouble in the third lap, and "Yumping Yimminy I," took a bad second.

W. Pate's "Dot" of New Orleans, never did start, and the displacement race had to be called because of darkness. The small runabout class with F. Sutter's "Sweet Child," N. Fowler's "Mystery" and J. Joubert's "C. W. A." had to be called also.

All the drivers were entertained aboard the judge's boat, the "Dorothy M" which was kindly furnished by Louis Rand. Sandwiches and drinks were enjoyed by all. The judges were Mr. C. A. Breath, Louis Rand, and Willie Watts.

Many of the boats were damaged by the rough water, and the drivers were quite shaken up by the pace they set on the rough course.

Dr. D. H. Ward and Mrs. Ward Return From Recent Family Reunion

Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Ward, residing in Main street, recently returned from Belmont, Tishomingo county, Miss., where they attended a family reunion. The Reunion paper tells of this remarkable family and interesting event in the following article, which we copy:

The home of Rev. M. L. Ward was a place of welcoming and homecoming Monday when the 74th anniversary of Rev. Ward's birth was celebrated with a reunion by his children and grand-children.

At noon the family were all seated together once more around an enormous table covered with a bounteous meal of everything imaginable to eat. The father headed the table with his wife on his right and the sons and daughters seated next in order of their ages, twelve in all. After all were seated Bro. Ward presented a large basket of gifts presented by two of his grand sons, Charles, Jr., son of Mr. Galloway Ward, and Hugh Thomas, son of Mr. Price Ward.

Later in the afternoon there was a feast of cold, delicious watermelon. All of Bro. Ward's children and a goodly number of grand children were present. Some of these had not met in seventeen years of absence.

Those participating in the affair were: Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ward and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ward and son, all of Belmont; Mrs. V. E. McHair and daughter, of Blytheville, Ark.; Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Ward, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and son Carlisle, wife and daughter, of Gulfport, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ward, of Grenada, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ward and daughter of Booneville, Miss.; Mr. Fred B. Ward and children, of Port Arthur, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ward and son, of Oxford, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward, of Oklahoma, Miss.

Bro. Ward is a superannuated Methodist minister who has served churches in North Mississippi and coast counties. He is a highly respected citizen of this state and the town in which he resides.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

I want to thank you for the handsome vote given me in the primary held on Tuesday, August 28.

This vote seems to show your confidence in my capability, efficiency, integrity and in my ability to carry on the work of circuit judge; and to guarantee my reelection to that office.

At the same time, I want to warn my friends against over-confidence which is always dangerous.

Faithfully Yours,

W. A. WHITE, Circuit Judge

Candidate for Re-election

Colmer Expresses Appreciation His For "Splendid Support"

Congressman William M. Colmer issued the following statement at 11 o'clock Wednesday, the day after the election:

"I am deeply appreciative of the splendid support accorded me by the people of the 6th Congressional District in yesterday's election. I regard it as an endorsement of my brief record of sixteen months in the national Congress. It will no doubt be regarded as a vote of confidence by the people of this district in the President's program which I have so zealously upheld."

"Upon the face of almost complete returns I am leading my nearest opponent by more than 5,000 votes. The total vote shows that it will only be necessary for me to receive approximately an additional 2,000 votes in order to be elected. I am very hopeful that the expense and effort of a second primary may be unnecessary."

Leading Aspirants In Race for Judge Issue Statement

Judge Walter A. White, leading candidate in the race for the circuit judgeship, who will go into the second primary with former Judge D. M. Graham with a commanding lead today issued a formal statement expressing his appreciation for the support given him in Tuesday's primary.

Interpreting the "handsome" vote given him as an expression of "confidence" in his "capability, efficiency and integrity" and as a virtual guarantee of his reelection, he warned his supporters in the first primary against overconfidence.

In a statement Wednesday Judge D. M. Graham stated that he appreciated the vote he received and that he would issue a formal statement as soon as the returns are all in and he had time to study them.

He stated that he would devote his entire time from now until the second primary in an effort to see the people and would deliver as many addresses as opportunity afforded.

King's Daughters' Hospital Benefit This Saturday Evening

Your hospital is calling for aid. The fair to be given Saturday evening of this week, St. Stanislaus College lawn, is not for the maintenance fund but for the debt and interest fund. It will be remembered the little band of workers here under the banner of King's Daughters some time back purchased the property wherein the hospital is housed. This building still carries a heavy debt and it is for this fund the fete will be given.

Money contributed by the city, county and State, can only be used to take care of charity patients and other immediate expenses and not for any building or debt fund. The Echo makes this statement to clarify a false impression that exists in some quarters.

—Messrs. C. M. Weeks and J. H. Sylvester, victims of an auto collision two weeks since, are up and about again.

—Monday, legal holiday, both banks will do no business for the day. The public will govern themselves accordingly.
